This collage of 12 photographs captures various moments from the Semana Santa (Holy Week) processions in Salamanca, Spain. The images are arranged in a grid-like fashion, with some overlapping. The top row features a golden altar with religious paintings, a procession of penitents in black robes carrying a large, ornate float, a close-up of a golden altar, and the interior of a church with a large, colorful mural. The middle row shows a large, ornate float carrying a crucifix and a figure of Christ, a group of people in red and white robes carrying a float, and the interior of a church with a checkered floor. The bottom row includes a group of people in white robes carrying a float, a close-up of a golden altar, a group of people in white robes carrying a float, and a close-up of a golden altar. The photographs document the religious and cultural significance of the event, showing the elaborate floats, the penitents, and the interior of the churches.

Boende

Vi bodde i en lägenhet. I lägenheten var det ett kök, ett vardagsrum med extra säng samt tre sovrum med garderober och förvaring. Det fanns även två badrum.

För att komma in till lägenheten använde man sig av en digital nyckel.

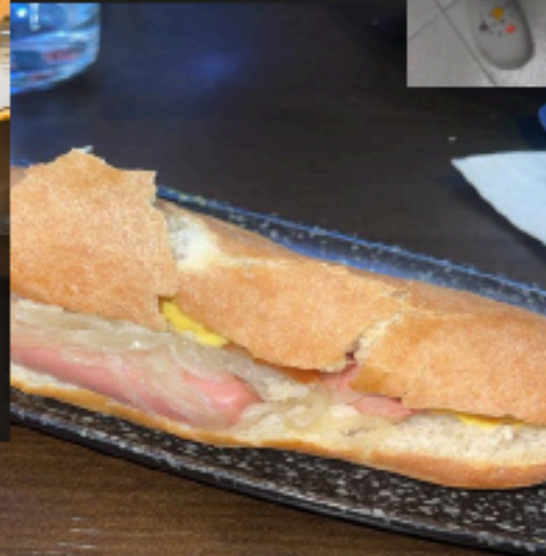

Lägenheten var väldigt central och lagom för fem personer.

Mat

De två första veckorna åt vi på El blason. Maten var ej så bra. Vi hade bord från ca. 20:00 till 21:00.

Utöver El blason var maten i spanien bra och billig.

Sista veckan bytte vi till en annan restaurang.
